

Dylan MarcAurele is a young musical theater composer/orchestrator based in NYC. He graduated last May from Harvard University, where he composed four musicals (including two Hasty Pudding shows, each performed for 15,000 audience members) and led a three-week songwriting workshop with composer Brian Lowdermilk. Since arriving to NYC in May, he has worked as Alex Lacamoire's music assistant for Hamilton and Dear Evan Hansen, composed songs for The Harvard-Yale Cantata (Feinstein's/54 Below) and Numbers Nerds (CPA Theatricals), and music directed A Dog Story (Off-Broadway; exec. prod. Ken Davenport).
