

Todd Syswerda: I am a storyteller who has been trained in music. My current 'day job' is teaching Music Composition, Songwriting, and Theory at Indiana Wesleyan University. I got into the Musical Theater game late, in my 30s, when I was asked to serve as Musical Director for a production of INTO THE WOODS. This changed my life and my artistic focus. I knew at that moment I had to be in THIS genre of telling stories. Since 2010, I have written or collaborated on three full length musicals, one film musical, and four 15 minutes musicals.
