

THE PRODUCER'S PERSPECTIVE

GETTING YOU TO THE NEXT STAGE.

Hello Pros,

Welcome to the Tip of the Week email, brought to you this week by Toodledo!

Lots of folks ask me how I get all the stuff done I work on, and how I keep it all straight. The answer . . . Toodledo. It's the best To-Do list software around, and I've tried them all. So check it out.

Before I tip you off this week, let's say a big hi-de-ho to the new members of our Pro family . . . Brooke, Christina, Kathy and Sam. Welcome y'all.

And prepare to get busy, in the best way possible.

And now . . . La Tip!

It's the season of Summer Reading . . . and whether you do it on the beach or on a subway, I'm adding a MUST to your to-read list.

I've read this particular book twice already. And recently, since I picked up a new project, I decided to read it again.

And I was once again reminded how it is one of the absolute best books on structuring musicals in the freakin' world.

I'm talking about Jack Viertel's The Secret Life of the American Musical.

Jack has been a critic, producer, writer, professor and is currently the Artistic Director of City Center's Encore series. And his study of the musical theater and what makes a hit is unparalleled.

Get the book here.

I don't have to give you any more of a tip than that. Because when you read the book, you'll see that Jack gives you hundreds.

(Inner Circle Members - I just snagged Jack for our November session so you'll hear from him live and in person in our intimate group.)

Enjoy the read and enjoy making your musical that much better.

Go get 'em!

Best,

Ken
